FRIDAY, APRIL 27, 1894.

The partisan measures, which the Republican Legislature has been sending to the executive chamber, will be promptly vetoed if the Governor is satisfied that they are in the interest of the Republican party and not of the whole people.

Buffalo has reason to be proud of its growth and progress within the last few years. Its boom began in 1890 and since then its annual output of manufactures has increased from $43,000,000 to $96,500,000, a gain of 124 per cent. Its annual wage payments have increased from $7,500,000 to $24,500,000, or 224 per cent. Its investments in manufactures have increased from $27,000,000 to $68,000,000, or 155 per cent., while its population has grown from 152,250 to over 300,000. Chicago is the only great city in the country that shows such a percentage of gain. Astonishing as is this record of growth Buffaloans are sanguine that the boom has not spent itself, but in fact has only just begun.

The letters which the Warwick Dispatch published from prominent Democrats, in answer to questions intended to elicit their views on tariff legislation, show that the Democratic sentiment of this county is unanimous in favoring the early passage of a tariff bill. Nearly all who answered the Dispatch's questions preferred the Wilson bill to the measure as amended by the Senate Finance Committee. Most of its correspondents, some very outspokenly and others by implication, condemned Senator Hill for his speech of April 9th, while a few so approved and commended him for opposition to the income tax that they were willing to ignore his assaults on the President and his ill concealed hostility to tariff reform.

Ex-President Harrison's address before the Indiana Republican convention, Wednesday, was not more than a shout of exuberant delight at the business troubles that the country has experienced, and he declared in almost so many words his firm conviction that the people of these United States were guilty of a "bloomin' error" when they turned him down in 1892. The Elmira Gazette very well says that "Mr. Harrison has lost no opportunity to twist the nation on its toes and to remind it that they are the penalties for rejecting his infallible leadership. The impression gained from his string of pessimistic utterances is that the man with the clean hand is per meated by a genial glow only when he cogitates on the misfortunes of his country."

Washington advices are to the effect that the prospects of the tariff bill were greatly improved, yesterday. The Republican Senators from the far Western States, who have little in common with their party associates, and whose views on many questions are almost identical with those of Southern Democrats, notified the Eastern Republican Senators that they would not assist them in their efforts to delay action on the bill, and the result was that Senator Aldrich had to back down and give up his attempt to contest Mr. Harris's motion to lengthen the hours for the sessions of the Senate. Democratic Senators, too, have been hearing from their constituents, and there is a very marked disposition to get together, harmonize differences and force the bill to a vote at the earliest possible date. It is now predicted that a vote may be reached by May 15th, and June 1st is named as the outside date.

The opening bill of the Kelsey-Kennedy Company will be "Casey's Troubles," a grand play, original songs, dances, etc. The two comedy stars at the head of this combination need no introduction to the people of Middletown. They have been coming here for years and have always brought the best, but this season they have surpassed their greatest efforts. It will be a great week of amusement.

A Medicine which Does You Good
Scrofula Humor on the Head Cured
by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"G. I. Wood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
"Dear Sirs—Why should we hesitate to approve an article of merit and worth? We use Hood's Sarsaparilla for our family medicine and also Hood's Pills. My little girl, 10 years old, had three sores covering the whole back part of her head, running down to the back of her neck.

It was dreadful to look at and the discharge very offensive. She came home one day with an advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla in her hands and said: 'Mamma, get me a bottle!' I did not think much of it at the time, but I got a bottle and gave her and used Hood's Olive Ointment for outward application on the sores. I was surprised at the effect. In a little while her head began to get better, and now it is just as well and smooth as before she had the sores."

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or grip. Sold by all druggists.

Other friends will go to New York, to-morrow, and see Mr. and Mrs. Hart on board the steamer.

—Leonardo Stellabotta, the Italian who was attacked by John Warner, Wednesday night, and who in turn attacked Warner, yesterday morning, was arrested this morning, on complaint of Alfred I. Gibson, who says he saw the Italian walk up behind Warner and strike him. Herbert Gotsky appeared for Stellabotta and entered a plea of not guilty. A jury trial was demanded and the case was set down for Monday.

—Shot in the Street.
—Emma, the five-year-old daughter of Walter Smith, of Northville, Delaware county, was accidentally hit, Saturday, by the accidental discharge of a revolver. The child had come to a neighbor's, Ernest Perry's, and Mrs. Perry was showing it a revolver when the hammer slipped and the weapon was discharged, the bullet lodging in the little one's breast.

—Both Couples Come to Order in Texas.
The Daily America says: Jersey City detectives have succeeded in causing the arrest in Galveston, Texas, of Albert Randall and Mrs. Nellie Ladue and Walter McUmber and Mrs. Oba. W. Jones, who disappeared from Jersey City on April 14th.
The Ladue and Jones families lived in the same house and the young women, both of which were very attractive, grew very intimate and eventually planned the elopement together. Randall left a wife behind, who will protest a divorce, as will also Mr. Ladue and Mr. Jones. Mr. Jones left a young child behind when she went away.
Randall forged checks to the amount of $1,000 after leaving and will be extradited. The others will not be brought back.

Master Frank Herman, one of the choir boys of Grace Church, son of Mr. Frank Herman, of West Main street, left his bed room, yesterday, for the first time in nine months. He took to his bed in July of last year, his ailment being appendicitis, and until very recently has been helpless. During all these months the little fellow has been able to lie in only one position—on his left side, and his sufferings have been terrible, but he has borne them like a true hero. Dr. Hallett, who has been attending him, regards his ultimate recovery as almost assured, and that it is safe to leave him while he is making his trip to Texas next week. Frank is still far from well, and it will doubtless be many months yet before he is himself again.

A Drama of Contemporaneous Human Interest.
Last night the Academy of Music had a brilliant opening for the season. The play produced was "The Old, Old Story," by the A. Q. Scammon Company. If enthusiastic calls before the curtain may be considered a criterion of success, then the company last night had a most triumphant one. The parts went smoothly, and the rich vein of humor running through the plot was delightfully exposed by the comedians instructed with these rolls. The play ranks with the best of the Daniel Frohman and A. M. Palmer's productions, and gives vivid pictures of life in Wall street and Fifth avenue.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

OBITUARY.

Harry House.

Miss Mary House died at the Old Ladies' Home, last night, aged seventy-six years, seven months and eight days.

Miss House was a daughter of Rynard and Susan Holbert House and most of her life was spent in the town of Goshen. She was the last of a large family. She came to the Home five years ago last November, and was the third person who became an inmate of that institution. She was an aunt of Mrs. Randall Stivers, of Ridgebury, and of Jesse House, who while insane murdered his brother, at Gardenville, in February.

The funeral will be from the Home, to-morrow afternoon, at 2.30 o'clock.

A DOUBLE ELOPIMENT.

BURGLAR'S VICTIM STILL ALIVE.

Grocer Henderson, of Newburgh, has Yet a Chance of Recovery—A Bridge Street's Escape from Warwick's Lock-Up.

Frank L. Henderson, the Newburgh grocer, who was shot in the neck by a burglar in his store, early Wednesday morning, is still living. He is conscious only a part of the time, however. It is believed that he knows the name of his assailant, but as yet has been unable to communicate it.

Henderson is suffering largely from shock. His loss of speech is said to be due to the cutting by the bullet of some of the vocal cords. There is only a bare chance of Henderson's recovery even if no other complications set in. It is quite possible, however, that if he does finally recover from the wound of the wound, he would never again be able to articulate.

Michael Shields, a young man with an unsavory reputation, was arrested in Newburgh, Thursday morning, on suspicion of being Henderson's assailant. When arraigned before Recorder McCrookery, Shields entered a plea of not guilty. He was remanded to jail with Martin Ryan for examination on Saturday. It is now believed that Shields and Ryan are one of the burglars who were in Henderson's store, but that the man who fired the shot has not yet been arrested.

A young man who gave the name of Frank Lewis was arrested at Warwick, Wednesday. He was suspected of participating in the Henderson shooting and burglary. Chief of Police Sarvin, of Newburgh, identified Lewis as Freddy Brogan, a well known Newburgh character.

The only offense that could be proved against Brogan was vagrancy, and Justice Winner sentenced him to six months in the Penitentiary at Albany on that charge.

Brogan escaped from the Warwick lock-up early Thursday morning and up to half past 7 o'clock last night had not been recaptured.

TEA TRIP TICKETS ON THE ERIE.

On May 1st the Erie will place on sale a tea trip ticket, which will be good for ten consecutive trips in either direction between Middletown and New York. The ticket is composed of a contract and nine coupons, one of which is detached for each passenger, the contract being taken up for the tenth passenger. The coupons will not be honored if detached from the contract. The price of this ticket is $11, making a round trip to New York cost $9.50. The ticket is not restricted to family use or time limit, the only restriction being that the coupons must not be separated from the contract.

A BREAK IN THE WATER MAIN.

There was a bad break in the water main at the corner of Linden avenue and Cortland street, at 6 o'clock, this morning, and before it was discovered and the superintendent could be notified, a vast quantity of water had been wasted and had formed a miniature river entirely around the block bounded by John, North and Cortland streets and Linden avenue. The main is one of the old cement pipes and the accident is just such a one as may be expected as long as a piece of this pipe remains.

BASE BALL NOTES.

—Turner played his first game of the season with Philadelphia, yesterday, owing to an accident to Delahanty in the first inning. He played fast ball, his score being one run, three hits, one sacrifice hit and five put outs in left field.

—Don't forget the base ball meeting at the Board of Trade rooms, tonight. If the patrons of the game in this city want it to be represented this season, action must be taken, tonight. Every lover of the game is invited to be present.

Water Works for Montgomery.

From our Montgomery correspondent.
The Board of Trustees of this village, at a meeting in Fireman's Hall, Thursday evening, voted on the water question. Four of the five Trustees were in favor of the scheme. After the meeting a number of citizens bailed a bonfire in the square and celebrated the victory with horns, etc. Water works are a necessity here and the action taken is wise and timely.

Homeopathic Medical College Commencement.

The Alumni acknowledges the receipt of an invitation to be present at the graduating class of the New York Homeopathic Medical College, to be held at Macdouglass Otis Club Hall, 113 West Fourth street, New York. Thursday afternoon, May 2nd, at 3 o'clock. Mr. A. P. Fowden is a member of the class.

Mr. Matthew Ferguson for Trial.

Mrs. Haldimay, who has been very quiet and pensive, and who has made Sheriff Booth a trouble for several months, has now begun to carve herself. Some such gratification of curiosity was expected, as her trial will take place in the third week in May, and the doubtless thinks it necessary to furnish fresh proof of her sanity.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

Death of John Minchin, Jr.—Chickens and Wallies—Ginger Notes.
From our regular correspondent.

—Miss Wild, of Albany, is visiting at the residence of Col. Burt.

—Miss Burt, who has been visiting for the past two months at Brookfield, Mass., returned home, yesterday.

—John Minchin, Jr., died, last night, after several months' suffering from gastric trouble, which is believed to have been caused by the irritation resulting from the pieces of a needle which he swallowed, after it had broken in his mouth. The pieces of needle were pumped out of his stomach several weeks ago, but the irritation was not allayed and he grew weaker, and although the best medical help was given him, it was of no avail. He was about thirty-six years old. He was survived by his wife and three young children. Mrs. Minchin has the sympathy of her many friends in her great loss. Mr. Minchin was a noted horse trainer and had, at the time of his death, a large number of horses in training. The funeral will be held Monday morning.

—A chicken and waffle supper will be given by the members of the A. U. M. P. Church, in Parry's Hall, Wednesday evening, May 28th. Proceeds for the benefit of the pastor. Tickets are being sold at thirty-five cents each.

—Frank Millspaugh has so far recovered from his recent illness that he is able to be out.

—H. H. Smith has a very pretty new show case outside his shoe store, in which to exhibit samples of his stock of footwear.

IN THE RAILROAD WORLD.

—The Susquehanna is to have four Dickson engines from Scranton, besides the six Rogers engines now being built.

—One of the Erie new reeling seat cars has been fitted up with vestibules, and is run on the Tuxedo Express train, and if satisfactory it is proposed to make vestibule trains of all of them, to insure the passengers a comfortable ride free from dust. The car is arranged according to the notions of Mr. Buhoup, of the Pittsburg company, inventor of the JENNIE-KNUST coupler improvements now in use all over the Erie.

Laying New Rails on the Hudson River Railroad.

Every laboring man on the railroad between Hyde Park and Sing Sing is employed laying these rails. One track is completed as far as Montrose. The rails that come from the Hudson River division are to be put on the Central division and the rails that come from the Central division have been purchased by Russell Sage for the P. and A. MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bismuth, Doses, Glycerin, and many other soothing syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stuporifying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a lot of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Picher that it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued certificates to Dr. Picher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a crime under the law?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 95 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 25 cents, or for one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when purchased of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

KATZINGER.

DISAGREED.

A Difference in Weight That Aroused Suspicion.

It was in one of the large department stores, and the party under the weighing machine was placed where it could not be over looked. They were in a hurry, though one was older than the other, while the other was a girl in a white dress for the revision of some of her mother's work. They passed the machine with a sickening look, then the older woman turned back, saying with a shuddering air:

"There's not a soul here that knows me. I'm going to find out just now what I do weigh. Then she handed her bundle to her sister and stepped on the scale. 'Ninety-five!' she screamed and bounded off. 'Here, was a minute,' the thin woman called, 'I want to try too!'"

"Will you give me your bundle?" snapped the other. "I didn't hold mine while I weighed."

Of course not! You—goodness, only 95!"

"Ninety!"

They walked out in silence and had more than half a block when the stout woman stopped and faced the thin one.

"Those scales were wrong," she remarked firmly.

"Why, of course they were," said the other one, brightening up. "How for?"

"At us not to think of it before! All these people weigh 95 a day! I'll be sure to put it out of order."

Certainly! He hands her loose and takes to making you out over to much heavier."

"Lighter you mean?"

"I do! I mean anything of the kind. The idea that I weigh 100 pounds!"

"No, the idea—I'm sure it is 95. I know I weigh at least 105!"

"How ridiculous! Not more than 95 as the scales say!"

"Ninety!"

"The idea!"

They turned and glared at each other, then walked on in silence and when the stout woman dropped one of her bundles and walked on unheeding the other one was too angry to tell her of it.—Chicago Tribune.

Why We Won't Remember.

"I heard a great deal when I first went on the road," said an actor who was in the city recently, "about the extraordinary ability of some hotel clerks to remember names and faces, and I can readily understand that such an accomplishment would be very desirable in a hotel clerk. Nearly everybody, unless he is traveling under an alias, is vain enough to enjoy a hearty recognition by a hotel clerk, particularly if the hotel is an especially good one. But I had my doubts about the ability of hotel clerks to remember the names of their guests, and when I came to Cincinnati I determined to make a test. I did so, but I am still undecided about the matter."

"In 1903 when I was about 3 years old, my mother brought me from the northern part of the state to Kentucky where my father, an officer in the Union army, was stationed. I had been told that we stopped over night at a certain hotel in Cincinnati. When a company that I was in came here, I went to that hotel. An elderly clerk was behind the desk. I tackled him."

"Hello," I said, trying to look as if I knew him well.

"How do you do, sir?" he said politely, but without a sign of recognition in his eyes.

"You don't remember me, do you?"

"No, sir," he said, "I do not remember you."

"If he didn't like to admit it."

"Why, I said, 'I stopped here in 1862.'"

"Spring or fall?" said he, apparently recovering himself.

"Spring, I think," said I.

"Oh," he answered, and he looked me right in the eye, "that accounts for my not remembering you, sir. I didn't come here until the fall of 1861!"—Cincinnati Tribune.

Something the Way.

The educated young man had struck the mountains town for a stay of several weeks, and at the railroad station he was met by the landlady of the tavern which was to be home to him during his visit.

"Go away, boy!" asked the old man.

"Two trunks," responded the visitor.

"Where are they?" demanded by a nod the two men belonged to him.

"Which?" inquired the landlady, stopping suddenly.

"Those," repeated the youth, pointing out the two with his stick, "those are they."

"Yes, yes," said the old man, becoming very friendly in his manner. "But you hadn't better say it to anybody else, for you let your wits go along with the folks in these parts and I've learned, I reckon, that I'll never let them."

Detour the Way.

Her lips quivered, and her breath came in labored sobs, but she did not speak.

"Do you love me?" he inquired, his hands clasped, his eyes shining, his head bowed.

"I don't know," she faltered.

"Don't you know?" he asked her.

"Don't you know?" he asked her.

"I don't know," she faltered.

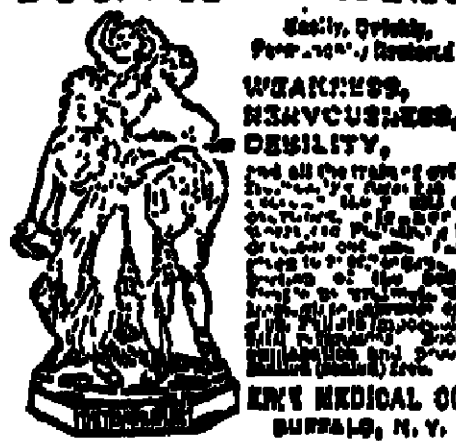

"Don't you know?" he asked her.

"I don't know," she faltered.

"Don't you know?" he asked her.
